A Fierce Night Alarm
Is the hoarse, startling cough of a child, sudden yawned by croup. Often comes Lewis Chamblin of Manchester, O. [R. R. No. 2] for their four children were greatly subject to croup. "Sometimes in severe attacks," he wrote, "we were afraid they would die, but since we proved what a certain remedy Dr. King's New Discovery is, we have no fear. We rely on it for croup and for coughs, colds or any throat or lung trouble." So do thousands of others. So may you. Asthma, hay fever, hiccups, whooping cough, hemorrhages fly before it. 50c and $1.00. Trial bottle free. Sold by the Red Cross Pharmacy.

AMUSEMENT NOTES.

"Man of the Hour" Saturday, April 1st, at Barre Opera House.

Not since Beaumarchais sent all France into laughter with his imitable "Marriage of Figaro" has another play caught the reflection of the time, and held it, like "The Man of the Hour," which will appear at the Barre opera house Saturday, April 1st.

It is American to the core, reflecting a phase of American life so essentially national, racial, and peculiar to ourselves that there is not a community from the Atlantic coast to the Pacific that has not accepted it as a picture of local conditions. In New York, Chicago and Philadelphia, popular opinion was vernacularly expressed by "That's us!" As the story of the play spread from coast to coast, and from the Canadian border to the Gulf of Mexico, editorial opinion was expressed in a hearty "That's us!" This unanimous and widespread disposition to make local application of Mr. Broadhurst's dramatic picture is a spontaneous and genuine tribute to the author's keen appreciation of the essentials of American life and character.

"The Rosary."

When Rowland & Clifford's new play, "The Rosary," comes to Barre opera house next Monday night, the discriminating public will be given an opportunity to see pictured before them a decided answer to the growing unrest and irreligion of our times. Not that "The Rosary" is a decision merely; it is more. It is a faithful picture of the misery and unhappiness that surely comes upon the man who lacks faith in the supreme good and its inevitable triumph, in our world.

A typical American family is taken as a fair example of every day conditions that obtain throughout the United States. The husband, a man immersed in business, the exacting business of Wall Street and the stock exchange.

Little by little he has fallen away from the faith of his fathers, that faith that brought our republic into being. He has replaced it by an agnostic attitude, all too prevalent in our day and time. The wife believes, her confidence in an all-wise, all-pervading good has not been shaken; and so when storm and stress comes, the man with no anchor is swept away by the storm of agony; the woman remains steadfast, moored by her faith to outlive the tempest.

Through all the heartbreak and tears, through all the agony and anguish, clear and serene, moves the wonderful figure of a modern Catholic priest whose life has been dedicated to God and the service of his fellow men. It is his clear, spiritual vision that sees through the web that has been woven about the two people whom he loves and it is his faith and God-given power that sets them free.

It is a wonderful preachment of faith's mighty power, of the saving graces of the good that lies all about us.

The tremendous story, powerful in its simplicity, is interwoven with the higher threads of sane humor, of the sort that one loves to take away from the theatre and muse over in idle moments.

Mr. Clifford with the lieutenants of his own theatre, the National, and Mr. Howland, with the producing staff he has spent years in gathering about him, have spent nearly the entire season at work upon "The Rosary", and a most perfect performance can be confidently expected when the curtain rises upon this play.

MONTPELIER.

The Montpelier Historical society held its annual meeting yesterday, when reports were read and officers elected. One hundred articles of historic interest have been entrusted to the society and are kept in its rooms in the Union building. The officers for the ensuing year are: President, A. J. Sibley; vice president, Dr. J. Edward Wright; secretary-treasurer, C. A. G. Jackson; board of managers, Miss Mattie S. Watson.

During the week from March 6 through March 11, when count was taken of the average daily carrier business from this post office, each carrier averaged to travel thirteen miles daily by foot, and the average number of pieces of mail delivered was 755.

A kitchen shower was given Miss Jeanie Davidson Wednesday evening. She is soon to leave here to reside in Barre.

EAST CALAIS.

Death of Mrs. L. E. Lyford from Heart Failure.

Mrs. L. E. Lyford was found dead in her bed Tuesday, March 23, at her rooms in the Wing house in East Calais village, the cause of death being due to heart failure. Mrs. Lyford was a kind neighbor and respected by all who knew her. She showed a loving Christian disposition by taking to her home, two small children, besides her own, and bestowing on them all the care and love a mother could give her own. She was 64 years, four months and ten days old. She leaves to mourn her loss, three daughters, Mrs. Oscar Dodge of Hardwick, Mrs. Bert Nelson of Woodbury and a foster daughter, Mrs. Ernest Ide of East Calais. The funeral was held at the church here Sunday.

Peace be with thee, our mother, in the spirit land. Vainly look we for another in thy place to stand.

Card of Thanks.

We wish to express our thanks to the friends and neighbors, who so kindly assisted us at the time of the death of our dear mother.

Mr. and Mrs. O. E. Dodge, Mr. and Mrs. Bert Nelson, Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Ide.

Resolutions.

Granite encampment, No. 29, I. O. O. F. Whereas the Almighty God has seen fit to remove our esteemed patriot, Henry Barber, resolved that while we deplore the loss, we take consolation in the belief that he has gone to that rest prepared for the upright. Resolved, that we extend to the sorrowing relatives our heartfelt sympathy in their great bereavement, that our charter be draped in mourning for a period of thirty days, that these resolutions be spread on our minutes and published in the Barre Daily Times.

TO HIGHEST COURT.

Clement National Bank of Rutland Will Carry Tax Case.

Rutland, March 31.—To the highest tribunal in the country, the United States supreme court, will be taken the case of the state vs. the Clement National bank of this city, brought to test the constitutionality of the law providing for a tax of 7-20 of one per cent on savings deposits in national banks.

The case was brought in Rutland county court and taken to the Vermont supreme court by agreement. This court decided in favor of the state, the judgment being that bank must pay some $3000. The appeal to the federal supreme court, which considers only constitutional questions, is taken by the bank. The attorney general looks after the state's interest in the case and Marvella C. Webber of this city and Maxwell Evans of Windsor represent the bank.

Papers are now being prepared to lay the case before the appeal court.

An Appeal to Wives

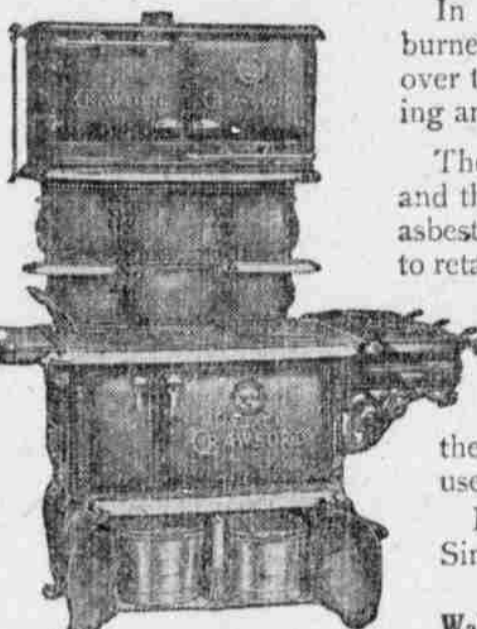

No more terrible affliction can come to any home than the excessive use of intoxicants by husband or son. Think of the money wasted in drink, which is needed in the home to purchase food and clothing. If you have a drinking husband or son, give him Orin. We are so sure that Orin will do what is claimed for it, that if after a trial no benefits are derived from it, we will refund the money.

ORINE is prepared in two forms, No. 1, secret treatment, a powder, absolutely tasteless and odorless, given secretly in food or drink. ORINE No. 2, in pill form, is for those who desire to take voluntary treatment. ORINE costs only $1.00 a box. Write for free Orin booklet (mailed in plain sealed envelope) to ORINE CO., 336 Orin building, Washington, D. C. ORINE is recommended and is for sale in this city by Burt H. Wells, 160 North Main street.

Combination Coal and Gas Crawford Ranges

The Crawford Gas Ovens are safe. They are lighted in a new way; there is no dangerous pilot light and explosions are impossible. This improvement is patented and very important.

The Damper is automatically opened by opening oven door to light the burners, which cannot be lighted until the door is opened.

In these Gas Ovens there is an extra set of burners at the top for broiling; a great advantage over the ordinary gas oven, insuring better broiling and great convenience.

The Oven Bottoms and Racks are cast iron, and the outer walls are triple—an interlining of asbestos between two sheets of iron, which assists to retain the heat.

The use of these Gas Ovens does not interfere in any way with the operation of the coal range—both can be used at the same time.

Double Oven above or Single Oven at end of range.

ACCUSED OF PERJURY.

William E. Langlois As Executor of Colchester Woman's Estate.

Burlington, March 31.—William E. Langlois has been arrested on the charge of perjury, the information charging him with making a false statement in probate court as to the amount he received for property sold by him as executor of the estate of Mrs. Charlotte Belisle of Colchester.

By the provision of her will, Mrs. Belisle left to her son, Joseph, her house and lot at 267 North Winslow avenue, in this city. To her daughter, Melvina Mitchell of New York city, she bequeathed $200, her furniture, bedding and wearing apparel. The bequests to the last two named, the just debts and funeral expenses were to come out of the real estate before mentioned. The final clause of the will designated William E. Langlois of 131 Archibald street, as the deceased's executor, who, she desired, would serve without bonds.

The estate was administered in due form and time, and Langlois, the executor, according to the records, made oath to the fact that he had sold the property at 267 North Winslow avenue for the sum of $700. The only assets of the estate were the premises described and the furniture.

Now, according to the allegations of the state, it has been discovered that the property described was sold to James McGowan by Langlois for $1,100, a difference of $400. It was also ascertained that Mr. McGowan transferred the premises on the same day to B. Machanic.

If the charge brought by the state proves true, Langlois made $400 on the side, while officiating as executor for the late Mrs. Belisle.

ADAM'S PEAK.

A Shrine Sacred to Three Conflicting Religious Sects.

Throughout Asia "holy places" are almost as numerous as leaves on a tree, but in Ceylon is a mountain which enjoys the unique distinction of being a very holy place to the devotees of three absolutely distinct and conflicting religious sects. This is Adam's Peak, or Sannanala.

According to the Mohammedan belief, Adam, after the fall, was taken by an angel to the top of Sannanala, and a panorama of all the ills that through sin should afflict mankind was spread out before him. His foot left an impression on the solid rock, and his tears formed the lake from which pilgrims still drink. The Buddhists contend that it was not Adam, but Buddha himself that made the footprint in the rock, that being the last spot where he touched the earth before ascending to heaven, while the Brahmans have still another legend. All, however, Brahmans, Mohammedans and Chinese, agree that Sannanala is a very holy place, and to perform a pilgrimage to the spot is to the Buddhist what a visit to Mecca is to a Mohammedan. In mixed crowds the worshippers come, each plying the ignorance of the other, who is so far from the "true way."

It requires no little faith and some imagination to trace in the depression in the rock the likeness of a human footprint. It is 5 1/2 feet long by 2 1/2 feet wide, on the top of a huge boulder. The natives, however, insist that it is the footprint of Adam.—Emmett Campbell Hall in Cincinnati Commercial Tribune.

A Japanese Peculiarity.
"When a Japanese servant is rebuked or scolded," says a traveler, "he must smile like a Cheshire cat. The etiquette in smiles is very misleading at first. I often used to think that Taki, my riksha 'boy,' meant to be impertinent when he insisted on smiling when I was angry at him. But when he told me of the death of his little child with a burst of laughter I knew that this was only one of the curious details of etiquette in this topsy turvy land."

One Definition.
"Papa," asked a little boy, "what is a legal blank?"
"A legal blank, Johnny," replied his father, "is a lawyer who never gets a case."—Chicago Record-Herald.
